

THE ART OF BEING IN THE RIGHT PLACE AT THE RIGHT TIME

An Interactive Journey based upon the Science of Kundalini Yoga Integrating the Experiences and Challenges of Modern Leaders by means of the Legendary Glass Bead Game.

Delivering our own uniqueness and prospering in transitional times in which everything is faster, chaotic and seemingly the right thing to do or to pursue, requires even more than before the ability of localization and synchronicity despite any distraction.

It is not just where and when we should be present to serve and accomplish, but also where we should be to meet and receive. Where and when we can completely feel life and let life feel ourselves. It is a signature of mastery to synchronize with space and time. That is how prosperity can flow to us and from us, and how we can leave a trace of our life journey imprinted in the ephemeral memory of evolution. This is the real meaning of SUCCESS.

The Re-connection to the legendary Waldzell Meetings

“That leads us to the bigger question, not why we have Waldzell, but where is Waldzell headed. It struck me at the round table that we are very privileged to listen to men and women who have made an enormous difference in the world through their lives. Even a living legend like Christian de Duve modestly says, “Well, I have not made much of a difference, but let me describe some of the things that I might have had some of an impact on;” and they are very powerful, they are very important. So we witnessed the kinds of contributions that these men and women have made and I think it requires us to ask a question of ourselves

That is for those of us who attend the Waldzell conference, “What kind of a difference do we intend to make with our lives?”

Alan M. Webber

closing statement at the Waldzell Meeting 2005 -

“Throughout history, some people, here and there, were able to sense reality. Now, we study them in books as leaders who had a clear vision and inspired others to manifest their future. They were visionaries, they were sensitive, practical dreamers. Each one of them had a glimpse of what the future could be, they were so dedicated to this split second, blink of an eye vision, they trusted in it so much that they made it their mission.

At that time, they called it intuition, a kind of subtle intelligence to grasp what something could become. Now, we talk about the cooperation between intuition, consciousness and perception. But the common issue for all of us is, can we trust what we feel? Is what we feel true? or is it just a projection of our inner world, fears and subconscious? At this time, full of information, opportunities and possibilities, how can we be sure that we have located and point ourselves in the right direction?

*In Kundalini Yoga we speak about a system of perception that is already present within us, but needs to be activated and we need to learn how to use it.
It is called ‘The Self-Sensory System’.*

Kundalini Yoga is a Royal Yoga, a Raja Yoga. A spiritual discipline intended in ancient times, solely for kings. It was meant to elevate, guide and support those who had the responsibility of leading others. In those times it was recognized that kings must train their consciousness to be able to lead from their spirit. Kundalini Yoga is known as the fastest way to achieve a state of heightened awareness, a complete physical, mental and emotional balance.
